Spiritual Direction

Spiritual Direction (Spiritual Companionship) is a practice dating back centuries in the Church and today is being revived in the Body of Christ as a way of companioning with another person or together with others in a group setting for the purpose of effectively discerning the movement of the Spirit of God in all of life's activity.

Spiritual Direction, the jewel in the crown of soul-care relationships, has been an important part of formal relationships of Christian nurture since the earliest days of the church. Rather than being for a specialized few, it is highly relevant to every Christian who takes the spiritual journey seriously.
